McGILLIVRAY'S LECTURES IN OHIO MAKE HIT

James McGillivray, of the East Michigan Tourist association, for nearly two decades educator with the Michigan Department of Conservation, returned Saturday, March 2nd from a two week lecturing tour in Ohio during which he visited Cincinnati, Springfield, Metamora and other cities.

Mr. McGillivray lectured on Michigan's recreational and historical appeals of Michigan wild life which have been given so much publicity. All of his pictures elicited extraordinary commendation, the beaver and eagle pictures being especially popular.

In Cincinnati in a single week, Mr. McGillivray addressed 14,000 people. An example of the reaction of the audience is reflected in a letter which the East Michigan Tourist Association has received from Jesse Kinner, superintendent of the Metamora public schools. Mr. Kinner says:

"The Metamora public schools and rural schools of our community were given a real treat when Mr. McGillivray appeared before them and showed a real picture of 'The Wild Life of Michigan.' The introduction to the picture given by Mr. McGillivray was very interesting and instructive. We feel that the afternoon was well spent and will welcome the return of Mr. McGillivray whenever he has time to spare."

CHANGE IN LAW REGARDING TWP. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Section 2124 Compiled Laws, requires township boards to meet the second Tuesday next preceding the Annual Township meeting for the purpose of auditing and settling all claims against the township.

The Public Acts of 1927 contain an amendment to the law of 1897, regarding the publicity required in the matter of the annual itemized financial statement of townships.

Not less than five nor more than 50 copies shall be provided immediately upon the settlement being made by the township board, for distribution at the opening of the polls on election day; and six more copies shall be posted in conspicuous places at the polls at their opening on election day.

This makes a minimum of 11 copies of the itemized statement to be provided by the clerk of each township.

Heretofore some township clerks have made written copies, the requirements under the old law being three copies posted at the polls. With at least 11 copies now required, every township can get 50 printed a great deal cheaper than the clerk can make them.

The township board may, at its discretion, have the report printed in a newspaper of general circulation.

Taxpayers and voters prefer as a rule to have printed statements with copies available to take home for perusal.

The Avalanche is prepared to supply these statements, at a cost, depending on the length of statement which vary in different townships.

On orders given promptly after settlement, statements will be printed in time for township meeting.

HERBERT HOOVER IS INAUGURATED

SETS HIS PROGRAM BEFORE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

HERBERT HOOVER is now President of the United States of America and Calvin Coolidge is again a private citizen. Despite the wishes of Mr. Hoover that the inauguration be as simple as possible, the committee in charge made the event the gayest of its kind in more than a score of years, and the national capital was thronged with visitors who participated in the three days' entertainment. The feature included a reception for the governors of a large number of states with their staffs, an air circus that enlisted army, navy and civilian aircraft, the great inaugural parade and a charity ball.

Being notified about 11:30 Monday morning by a committee from the senate and house that the time for his inauguration was at hand, Mr. Hoover, with President Coolidge, escorted by cavalry, rode down Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol and, in the senate chamber, saw Vice President Dawes swear in Senator Charles Curtis as Vice President. Mr. Curtis made a short address and the Presidential party went to the inaugural stand. There Mr. Hoover took the oath of office, administered by Chief Justice Taft of the Supreme court, and made his inaugural address. Thereafter the Presidential party betook themselves to the White House, ate luncheon and, from the reviewing stand in front of the executive mansion, watched the long inaugural parade which took about four hours in passing and over which hovered a hundred airplanes.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, following the precedent set by Theodore Roosevelt, left Washington in the afternoon for their home in Northampton, Mass.

President Hoover's address was listened to with enthusiasm not only by the vast crowd present but also by a radio audience that embraced a considerable part of the country's population. It set forth his view of the state of the nation and of its relations with other nations and his conception of the policies best designed to promote peace and improve living conditions. But, more important, it disclosed an eminent engineer's vision of a huge program of public works in the next four years, involving the expenditure of billions of dollars, and of a farm relief program that, while costly, will, he believes, return tremendously increased profits for capital and labor. Offsetting the great expenditures suggested, the new President pointed the way to governmental economies beyond even those of the Coolidge administration. He proposed the elimination of waste in the processes of government to an extent that would save the taxpayers more than would be expended on waterways, farm relief and other projects combined. This would be accomplished by a radical reorganization of the federal government on scientific lines of reclassification of functions, elimination of overlapping, and eventual reduction of personnel.

No arrangements have been made for a lyceum course for next year and it looks as if there will be none. We believe that if the right organization will agree to look after the ticket sales and the responsibility of conducting the entertainments that the business men will again be willing to give it their financial backing. That should be fair enough. The business men should not be expected to go out and peddle tickets.

CLOSE SEASON'S LYCEUM COURSE

KILLARNEY COLLEENS PLEASE
LARGE CROWD

The Killarney Colleens, the fourth and concluding number of the season's lyceum course, presented their entertainment here Friday evening.

The young ladies made a very decided hit with the audience. Tess Sheehan proved a gifted dramatist and delighted her audience with her Irish wit and her readings. She possesses a phenomenal throat that makes it possible for her to present a series of unsurpassed imitations. Her readings were inspiring and thrilling and at times very humorous.

Miss Mae Saltmarsh is one of the foremost trombone soloists in the country. She proved herself a rare artist and her trombone solos were one of the outstanding features of the entertainment.

There were a number of vocal solos by each of the young ladies and also vocal duets that, were very well received.

These lyceum entertainments have been outstanding, cultural and entertaining. We have heard the best talent in music and in lecture, and the cost has been small when it is considered the fine moral influence such entertainments have upon a commonwealth.

No arrangements have been made for a lyceum course for next year and it looks as if there will be none. We believe that if the right organization will agree to look after the ticket sales and the responsibility of conducting the entertainments that the business men will again be willing to give it their financial backing. That should be fair enough. The business men should not be expected to go out and peddle tickets.

ENJOYING VOYAGE TO WEST INDIES

INTERESTING LETTER WRITTEN
BY F. L. MICHELSON

S. S. California
Feb. 27, 1929

Mr. O. P. Schumann,
Grayling, Mich.

Dear Mr. Schumann:

On Saturday, Feb. 23rd, my family and I, accompanied by Mrs. O. M. Evans of Columbus, Ohio, left New York for a West Indies cruise. The weather was cold, and great piles of snow filled the streets of New York. We embarked at 11 a. m. and after locating our rooms and baggage, came on deck to watch the departure of the ship.

The ship was taken out into the harbor by tugs. Our progress was slow and we had a good look at the Statue of Liberty. The pilot soon left us and the ship headed south. There are 520 passengers on board, a general crowd, some having taken the cruise twice before.

Saturday and Sunday were cold. By noon Sunday we had made 335 miles, and were about opposite North Carolina. We attended church service at 10:45, and there was a community sing and a concert by the orchestra in the evening.

The sea has been a little choppy, but we are all on our feet and have not missed any of the splendid meals which are served to us. Today is perfect on board ship—bright sunshine, warm, and a fine breeze. Everybody in summer togs and doors and windows open. It began to get warm on Monday, and we put away our heavy coats and clothing.

We arrived at Nassau Tuesday morning and anchored a short distance out in the harbor. We went ashore about 9:00 a. m. and a tender made trips from the boat to shore and return all day long to accommodate the passengers. The temperature was 80 degrees in the shade in Nassau and the sun was very hot. We took a drive around the island and visited the places of interest. The boys had a bathing party in the afternoon with the young people, came back to the ship for dinner, and at night returned to Nassau for a dance at one of the hotels. They have two very modern new hotels in Nassau, and some very nice new homes which were pointed out to us as bootleggers' homes. Nassau is called the bootlegger's paradise, most of the booze being brought in from Jamaica. They are building new piers and making many other public improvements from the revenue received from the sale of bootleg liquors, we were told. The flowers on the island were beautiful and we saw some wonderful specimens of the silk cotton tree, one two centuries old, quite patched up by tree surgery but still alive.

A short time out of New York, some one said they had a lot of wet goods on board, and a regular old-fashioned bar, and as Inspector of the Striae Club, it was my duty to investigate, and I will file my report on my return. I will say, however, that the statement was correct.

We are now on our way to Havana, scheduled to arrive there Wednesday morning, Feb. 28th, and are promised a wonderful two days in that beautiful city.

The ship has radio connection with the States and receives the stock market reports and the latest news from Washington.

Sincerely yours,
Frank L. Michelson.

MICH. LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Michigan Press Association,
Lansing Bureau

"They shall not pass" seems to be the war-time slogan adopted by the legislature in regard to important measure at the present session.

Two months of the session gone and not an appropriation measure of any kind has gone through the mill. Neither does relief for the hospitals of the state seem any nearer a solution than when the session opened. A bond proposal for twenty millions which passed the Senate and came to the House under pressure to be rushed through in time for a vote of the people at the spring election was murdered in the House Thursday afternoon, in the most stirring session of the year. "Now what's to be done?" is the outstanding question and there are nearly as many different answers as there are members.

The administration measure providing for amendments to the criminal code, House Bill No. 116, was passed by the House Thursday afternoon by the overwhelming vote of 72 to 18.

Most of the dry members voted for the bill in spite of desperate efforts by Rev. R. N. Holsapple, anti-saloon league lobbyist. The bill had the hearty endorsement of the governor, the attorney general and his aides, Commissioner Arthur Wood of the pardon and parole department, of prosecuting attorneys and law enforcement officers from all over the state. The Cuthbertson bill or some similar measure will undoubtedly be passed which will make the liquor laws and their enforcement even more practical than they are under the present laws.

There is much favorable comment on a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Conlon of Grand Rapids which would provide home rule under a charter for counties. It is said that this would greatly reduce running expenses, particularly in the more sparsely settled of the northern counties, and thus reduce the excessive tax rate of such counties. The bill carries a referendum clause.

Opposition to the amusement tax bill was voiced strenuously at the public hearing Monday night, following the regular session. Claims were made that the tax would put a great majority of small town movie houses out of business. The bill, which had been referred to the ways and means committee, has not as yet been reported out.

The Senate Monday night passed a bill providing for an advertising appropriation of $100,000 to help the four tourist associations advertise the resort attractions of the state.

The House passed five bills at the Monday evening session, one establishing a fund for county law libraries, one permitting one country district to provide transportation for pupils from another district, one to provide for discharge of tax liens and land contracts in like manner as mortgages, one to provide for the disbandment of sparsely settled townships and one to provide for refund of drain assessments if funds are fraudulently expended.

Rep. McNitt introduced a bill making it a felony to own or drive a car equipped to lay down a smoke screen, such as is sometimes used by bandits to help their escape from a posse.

The Senate had a feed at the Downey Tuesday night at the expense of Senator Kolowich of Detroit.

DEFEATED BOYNE CITY GIRLS IN 1927

Sawtelle, Calif.
March 1, 1929

Mr. Oscar P. Schumann,
Grayling, Michigan.

Dear Sir:

I wish to call your attention to the fact that an error was made in the school notes of your paper published February 21, 1929, stating that the Grayling Girls basket ball team had never defeated Boyne City. You will recall, however, that in the year of 1927, B. E.'s Basket Ball Bobbies defeated Boyne City on our own floor while they in turn defeated us on their floor.

Will you please correct this error? For any further information you will find in your paper published that year, or write to Miss Gertrude Loskos who was our captain for that year.

Thanking you in advance, I remain,
Yours very truly,
Florence Lindahl.

FREDERIC SENIOR CLASS PLAY MAR. 15

Stop! Look! Listen! The seniors of the Frederic high school have changed the date of their play, "The Dearest Thing in Boots" from March 7 to March 15th. Many will attend the basket ball games in Grayling this week and we do not wish to detract from this important function.

Please remember the date and attend this play which will be rendered in the gymnasium of the Frederic high school for the benefit of the Senior class. Excellent music will be furnished and other specialties that will be very pleasing to the audience. If you come, you will laugh, grow fat, and be prepared for a most enjoyable week end.

The price of admission will be 35 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Dinner will be served in the basement beginning promptly at 5:30 and ending at 7:30 Standard time.

There will also be a chance to buy some of the best home made candy you ever ate.

The price of the dinner will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

This play which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock is one of the most amusing you ever read. The teachers have given their class considerable practice and we believe if you come that you will feel you have had the worth of your money, and at the same time you will help our Senior class.

STATE TO MAKE PINES ACCESSIBLE

Lansing, Feb. 28.—The Hartwick Pines Park, one of the links in Michigan's growing chain of state parks, may be readily accessible to the tourist within the next year or so. The park boasts of the most typical tract of the old-fashioned Michigan white pines that exists today. There are about 73 acres of these monarchs of the forest, thought to average about 150 years in age. Old timers who knew Michigan "way back when" may get a useful pine forest by visiting this park. There is scarcely any undergrowth, the huge trees blotting out all vegetation that might have gained a start beneath their boughs.

The forest is carefully watched. Every precaution is being taken to guard against fires, being under constant supervision and a fire line having been established around the tract. It is planned to build in the park adjacent to the pine tract, a replica of camp buildings typical of the "pine days," wherein a complete display of implements of the lumbering days be included as part of its equipment.

If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offering, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

To the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford in Chancery:
The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all lands in said County of Crawford upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid, together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1890 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes, or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.
Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid. And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.
Dated February 13, 1929.

ORAMEL B. FULLER,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1929

IN THIS generation man has cut himself loose from the bonds of earth, and hour after hour sports over land and sea and through the clouds. He can lift himself from the earth, why can he not free himself from the atmosphere and soar through space?

This tremendous dream of man is being supported by the mathematics of engineers and the speculations of scientists. Having conquered the globe, man begins to make ready for round trips to the moon. It is interesting to note that the suggestions for the interplanetary vehicle all cluster around a vessel of the rocket type. The successful airplane offers no assistance in designing a ship for sailing through the universe.

In figuring the power necessary to hurl a cosmic carver to the moon, Robert Esnault Pelterie, who made his reputation twenty years ago as a designer of light engines and streamlined airplanes, used 414,000 horsepower in his calculations. This would be necessary to catapult a half-ton vessel successfully to the lunar world.

Journeys to other planets across the great distances of airless space are theoretically possible through the use of the rocket-exhaust kick, as the motive power. For experiments show that the kick of the exploding rocket charge is just as effective in a vacuum as it is where there is plenty of atmosphere. Propellers of ordinary airplanes need the air to work against. The rocket is effective in a vacuum for the same reason that a rifle fired in an airless chamber would have the same sort of kick that it would in air.

The rocket airplane once it reached the airless outer space or the upper rarefied portion of the atmosphere, would attain great speed because of the lack of air resistance. As a matter of fact, the idea of applying the rocket principle to a still questionable purpose has not as yet found sufficient interest in the eyes of the necessary financiers. For this reason, it was thought better to confine the experiments to the earth for the time being. First, by means of an automobile, and, later, with a train car. There can be no doubt that machines can be made to acquire an unusual speed by using powder for automotive purposes in combination with the rocket principle. The technical side of the question has been solved by engineers, but it still remains to be seen whether or not such cars will have any economic importance.

NO MORE SILK FOR CATERPIL-LAR CLUB

As another step toward making this country independent of other nations in the production of wartime necessities, the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics has developed a new fabric for use in the manufacture of parachutes, which so far has proven as good as the silk formerly obtained from Japan, according to the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit. The Navy has purchased 326 parachutes of this new material and expects to get 1,000 more. The new "Caterpillar" (silk worm) was given aviators making parachute jumps from disabled planes because of the material used in parachutes.

MORE PLANE ENGINES FOR NAVY

The Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, is informed that an order for 198 airplane engines has been placed with the Pratt and Whitney Airplane Company. This order, which also calls for spare parts, is in addition to the calling for 120 airplane engines, placed in November. They will be used in the Navy's building programme, which calls for 1,000 planes by 1931.

Two French newspapermen fought a duel the other day because one claimed that the other gave him an exaggerated news report. They must take their journalism seriously over there.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

CONGRESS in its final days cleared up some legislation and left some unfinished, killed or postponed. Full-busters were frequent and in some cases effective. They caused the senate to abandon the congressional re-apportionment bill passed by the house and to consent to the continuation by a committee of affairs of the Indian bureau. The second deficiency supply bill, minus the $24,000,000 prohibition enforcement item, was passed by the senate after Senator Dill had conducted a filibuster on behalf of his demand that the appropriation for a survey of the Nicaragua canal route be cut in half. The senate also adopted the conference report on the naval appropriation bill after the radical group had made a hard fight, so $12,570,000 will be made available for starting work at once on the cruiser building program.

Despite the stubborn opposition of the wets in the house, that body passed the senate measure, known as the Jones bill, which increases the maximum penalties for first offenders against the Volstead act. The proposed legislation for the deportation of alien gunmen failed because the senate conferees refused to accept certain provisions in the house bill, holding that they created unjustifiable in-linities.

Efforts to postpone the national origins immigration restriction plan, which goes into effect July 1, also failed. The President transmitted to congress a revision of the national origins quotas which decreases the British quota from 65,894 to 65,721, and increases the German quota from 24,408 to 25,837, and the Irish from 17,427 to 17,833. Norway is reduced from 2,403 to 2,377, Sweden from 8,899 to 8,314, and Denmark from 1,234 to 1,181.

President Hoover may obtain the repeal of the revision plan at the extraordinary session of congress. He opposes it on technical grounds, holding the national origins figures cannot be accurate and that it is best to leave the quotas to the present census basis.

CONTRACTS for the sale and operation of the United States and American Merchant lines and the construction of two palatial liners by Paul W. Chapman & Co., Inc., of New York, were signed. The documents provide the necessary legal guarantees that the ships will remain under the American flag for a period of one year and maintain a regular schedule. Chapman takes over the operation of the eleven ships of the two lines, including the Leviathan, and will let contracts for the construction of two liners nearly as large as the Leviathan, but faster and more luxuriously appointed. They are to be speedier than any ships now built or building.

Chapman agreed to pay the shipping bond $10,300,000 for the fleet and some shore property. Approximately half of this sum is to be paid at once. The shipping board agreed to loan the purchaser approximately $50,000,000 as three-fourths of the construction cost of the proposed new liners.

A IRMANSHIP of the highest order and cool nerve saved Colonel Lindbergh and his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, from serious injury or death down in Mexico City. The colonel and Anne had been on a little airplane ride in the course of which a landing wheel was lost. Lindy told the young lady they would upset on landing but not to be frightened, surrounded her with cushions, and flew about until the gasoline was exhausted, to avoid the possibility of explosion. He then came down to ground with the utmost care and skill. The plane upset, as he expected, and he sustained a dislocation of the shoulder, but Anne was unhurt. The colonel's injury was attended to at a hospital and he took Anne home in an automobile which he drove with his left hand. He declined to talk about the upset, insisting it was "not an accident, merely a mishap."

Showing that the "mishap" hadn't daunted them, Lindy and Anne made three short flights next day, the colonel handling the plane with one hand. George Haldeman, who was Ruth Elder's pilot on her attempted transatlantic flight, made a fine nonstop flight from Windsor, Ont., to Havana, Cuba, in 12 hours and 56 minutes. Joseph Lebriz, the French aviator, and two companions on an experimental mail plane flight from Paris to Saigon, Indo-China, crashed in the Gulf of Mataban, Lower Burma, when more than eight days out from Marseilles. The plane was destroyed but the aviators escaped serious injury. Walter Schurz, who was helmsman of the dirigible Los Angeles when it was brought over from Germany, and of the Graf Zeppelin on its round trip between Germany and the United States, died in Berlin from balloon gas poisoning.

BANKER members of the reparations commission last week discussed the possible issue of German war debt bonds. The prevailing view seemed to be that the issue should be for not more than a billion dollars and the term for amortization should be thirty to thirty-five years. It was thought one-quarter of the amount should be allotted to the United States and three-quarters to Europe, since Europe has the deepest interest in the settlement. The settlement plan devised by Sir Josiah Stamp's subcommittee provides for the division of the annuities that Germany is to pay annually into two parts. The first and the larger portion Germany must pay unconditionally, but the balance she may delay discharging if the payment would endanger the exchange rate and threaten again to depreciate the mark. This provision was necessary because when the plan to revise the Dawes plan was agreed on, the original transfer committee which safeguarded the German finances was accidentally dissolved, and the British representatives insisted that they need this protective organ if they are expected to pay anything like what the allies demand.

HOLLAND, and in lesser degree the rest of Europe, was interested in the publication in a Utrecht newspaper of documents disclosing an alleged secret military agreement between France and Belgium. Dr. J. Londen, Dutch minister to France, demanded an explanation, and the French foreign office asserted the treaty and its interpretation as printed in the paper were falsehoods. Belgium's foreign minister made a similar denial. The Belgian chamber of deputies decided that if any Belgian minister had signed the alleged treaty, he should be prosecuted in the courts. The editor of the Utrecht paper declared the source from which he secured the documents was "absolutely above suspicion"; that they are the minutes of a meeting of military experts, signed and officially sealed and include the text of the Franco-Belgian treaty.

LEON TROTSKY, the exiled Bolshevik, is said to be in an advanced stage of tuberculosis, and his friends have been trying to arrange for his removal from Turkey to some more healthful clime. Those in Germany have prepared for him a cottage in the outskirts of Berlin where he and his wife can live in simple comfort if the German government consents.

HURRICANE'S swept across several sections of the Middle South last week, killing nearly two score persons, injuring many others and doing considerable property damage. The regions hardest hit were in Mississippi, Arkansas and northeast Texas. In Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa there were blizzards that interrupted transportation; in Ohio, Missouri, and southern Illinois there were threatening floods; and the region about Los Angeles was hit by a destructive gale.

JACK SHARKEY, a Boston outpointed young W.L. Stribling of Georgia in the much publicized heavyweight fight in Miami Beach and was given the decision by Referee Magnolia after ten rounds of rather unexciting battling. The Southerner, younger, lighter and less experienced than his opponent, had rather the best of the earlier rounds, but Sharkey, generally avoiding Stribling's really formidable right, wore him down with body blows and fairly won the decision. Both fighters were brave enough and showed considerable skill, but the sports writers present agreed that neither gave promise of being championship material. Thirty-five thousand men and women paid $400,000 to see the fight. Sharkey's guaranteed share was $100,000, and Stribling received $90,000.

POLICE officials of Havana uncovered a plot to assassinate President Machado of Cuba, overthrow the government and force military intervention by the United States. Seventy-three persons were charged with complicity and some of them were arrested. Among those still at large was Gustavo Machado y Morales, a cousin of the President. American secret service operatives were said to have been in Havana helping investigate the plot.

REV. DR. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, one of the most noted pulpit orators of the time, died in his home in Bronxville, N. Y. He was born in Iowa 70 years ago and first won fame as a preacher in Chicago and Evanston, Ill.

Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear

WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and the Houdaille shock absorbers.

Though the Ford tires are designated as 30 x 4.50, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel-spoke wheels.

For best results, the tires on the new Ford should be kept inflated to an air pressure of 35 pounds and checked regularly to insure this pressure all the time. This is important. Low inflation breaks down the side-walls of a tire. By causing overheating, it also destroys the rubber that acts as an insulation, with consequent separation of the cord.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent premature wear.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.

A very delightful luncheon was given by Mrs. Geo. Alexander Saturday afternoon with the members of her Bridge club as guests. Spring flowers were used to decorate the table at which the guests found their places. The high score was held by Mrs. C. R. Keyport.

After several days of sunshine and the feel of springtime in the air and visions of gardening, and golf and other spring activities, old Storm King broke loose with a vengeance Wednesday evening and is still reigning with a firm hand. "The wind she blew and the snow she snev" and by morning we were again having winter weather. In fact that was the most severe blizzard of the winter season. Starting with rain late in the afternoon, as the temperature dropped the rain turned to snow and then the wind arose and havoc was being played on every hand. Snow piled up in heavy drifts and indoors wherever there was the slightest service the snow sifted in plenty. The wind comes up in whirling gusts and at times one is unable to see across the street. And to add to the unpleasantness the temperature is ranging around the zero mark. The picture of springtime has been pushed back into longer obscurity to await the pleasure of the elements when conditions may be more hopeful for continued warm weather.

John Bruun was in Lansing last week Tuesday to attend a meeting of the advisory board of the State Accident board of which he has been a member for several years past.

Mrs. Mary Samson and John Malco were united in marriage at the farm home of the groom in Maple Forest last Saturday night. Rev. Earle of Frederic tied the knot. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

Lee Sherman of Detroit is here to spend the winter with his mother Mrs. Nettie Sherman. Mrs. Sherman recently returned from Mancelona, where she had been for a number of weeks caring for the wife and children of her son Merrill who were ill with the flu.

The new President of the United States must have said some things that cut deeply into the conscience of those who think it good form, and socially correct to raise particular "whoopie" especially with regard to the liquor laws of this country. Here is his message for such people: "There would be little traffic in illegal liquor if only criminals patronized it. We must awake to the fact that this patronage from large numbers of law-abiding citizens in supplying the rewards and stimulating crime."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Eggs for hatching should be kept in a cool place free from drafts and not excessively dry. A basement or cellar is a good place.

If the leaves and trash in the orchard have not already been plowed under or raked up and burned, do it now, so that they will not provide harbor for the spring crop of injurious insects.

It is important to supply protein in the poultry ration, and it is also important to furnish the right kind of protein. Meat foods, fish meal, and milk are some of the best sources of good protein, say poultry experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Plenty of water and salt with a minimum amount of concentrated feed for several days before and after calving helps to prevent milk fever in the dairy cow. If the disease does develop, however, it is easy to treat it by injecting sterile air (air filtered through liquid or cotton) into the udder. Keep an air pump pests, if their houses are kept clean. At this time of year, it is best to use the "pinch" method of applying the material; that is, apply pinches of the powder over the various parts of the fowl.

The farmer who pays clover-seed prices for red clover seed mixed with weed seeds not only pays for useless stuff, but he will be put to considerable expense for several years afterwards, especially if the weeds are buckthorn, wild carrot, Canada thistle, or dock. With a simple magnifying glass, costing less than a dollar, anyone can readily pick out the weed seeds from a sample of clover. Good red-clover seed is plump, bright, and varies in color from yellow to deep violet. Some brown seeds are always present, but there should not be many, as they are often dead.

A orphan lamb can be brought up successfully on cows' or goats' milk. The milk should be fed from a bottle at a temperature of about 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Very young lambs get a better start if given milk from ewes that have lambed recently. They should be fed 1 ounce every two hours for the first 2 days. Gradually increase the amount of milk from 2 to 6 ounces, giving it every 4 hours for 2 or 3 weeks. At this age, the lambs should begin to nibble on such feed as bran, rolled oats, or cracked corn, and the milk feedings can be increased to 1 pint every eight hours.

Starting and Finishing Calves
The practice of feeding a grain mixture to calves still running with their dams on pasture is growing in popularity, especially under intensified farming conditions where pasture is limited. Finishing calves by this system means a quick turnover and is advisable where grade herds are maintained for beef production in farming areas, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The calves may be allowed to run with their dams and have access to grain in a self-feeder in a creep, or they may have a separate pasture and be put with their dams two or three times a day. Spring calves fed a grain supplement while nursing can be marketed in the fall when weaned at an average weight of about 500 pounds and usually bring greater net returns than if carried over another year or two.

Julius Kramer was down from Gaylord yesterday, greeting old friends and customers.

Electric lights were put in the hall over Conine & Co.'s store this week, for the benefit of the Scandinavian Society.

Miss Anna Adele Sancier, took up her residence with her parents Feb. 25th, in this village, and they seem willing that she should stay. The year is opening auspiciously.

Village President Bauman has been home from his lumber camps in the Menominee region for the past week. He reports plenty of snow, fine weather and excellent work there this winter.

B. F. Sherman, Jas. K. Bates and John Malco of Maple Forest were in town yesterday, all good natured as ever.

Willie McCullough had to take a little rest from school on account of his eyes, and so went home with his grandfather for a week's play at Gaylord.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robin is made glad by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Adams her father and mother, of Bay City, who will remain till spring time.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald died Sunday night.

The M. & H. Lbr. Co.'s saw mill cut 100,000 ft. last Tuesday, day and night run. This amount is log scale and would be considerable more lumber cut. This is considered a banner cut.—Lewiston Journal.

W. Havens and A. H. Amos were drawing logs for wood one day last week when the load was capsized and both men caught between the logs. Not badly hurt but somewhat excited for a little time.

The Benedict School House in Beaver Creek was burned Tuesday evening with the woodhouse and about 30 cords of wood. The origin of the fire is believed to have been incendiary, as there was no stove in the house, and no one known to have been there for some time. Loss probably $800.00 with no insurance.

It is good news for our citizens to know that the new fire alarm system is now complete, and as good as in any village in the state.

Louis Dumont, working in the lumber camp near the "tank," was boiling tea in a tin pail a few days ago and the cover fitted so tightly that the steam could not escape, and just as he was reaching for it, the pail exploded by the pressure, and he was severely scalded about the face and neck. Fortunately his eyes escaped injury, but he will have two weeks or more enforced idleness.

Mrs. H. Berg and Mrs. C. M. Goulet started last Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, Calif., with their children.

A letter last week from I. H. Richardson, Supervisor of South Branch, to Co. Clerk Collen and Register Brink was dated at New Orleans, where he was then sojourning with his wife.

A party of our citizens made application for the use of the railroad scales last Monday, but on inquiry of what they were wanted for, promptly refused, as they did not want them ruined. It was all because a new baby boy had come to the home of "Ed" Douglas, and his friends were estimating Ed's weight. He will be able to go to work again in a few days.

School Notes
The High School is taking thirty minutes each day for impromptu speaking and parliamentary drill.

Some of the advanced shorthanders easily write one hundred words new matter. Not so bad when the test required in the commercial colleges is only one hundred twenty-five.

Miss Annin is conducting a class in advanced physiology.

Miss Daisy Croteau will be missed from the High School. She left for her western home last Tuesday.

The chemistry students have done considerable laboratory work since the room was completed. Tuesday, Marsh's test for arsenic was performed before the class.

MOTOR OIL

Times have changed!
Faster driving speed—higher compression engines—more congested traffic—have put a heavier load on the engine.

A richer—sturdier lubricating oil is needed—an oil that will stand up no matter how hot the engine must run.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), always geared to anticipate changing conditions, has kept Iso-Vis and Polarine abreast of development. These two good oils are up to the minute—both do a good job.

Polarine is the standard motor oil. It maintains a protective cushioning film of oil between frictional surfaces. Drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with fresh Polarine for maximum efficiency and economy.

Iso-Vis is the new type constant viscosity motor oil. It will not thin out. It lubricates thoroughly and constantly the remotest frictional surfaces. It wears and wears and wears. It costs a bit more, but its use makes frequent crankcase changes unnecessary.

Use either of these rich, sturdy oils and your motor will run smoother and last longer.
